Item 4: Approval of the amendment of the Academic Regulations of B. Sc., (Hons.) Agricultural Sciences (for the batches admitted from 2021-22)

- The minimum aggregate marks required to clear a course is 50 marks as per the regulations of ICAR (Indian Council of Agricultural Research) and the same has been adopted in the academic regulations.
- Few students, despite of securing the pass marks in the semester end examination (SEE), they are unable to clear the course(s) as they have scored very low marks in continuous internal evaluation (CIE), thereby requiring them to score more than 45 marks out of 50 in the SEE, which is nearly impossible.

Proposed Amendment:

The amendment is placed as a new item 5.5.11 in the academic regulations of the B.Sc. (Hons) Agriculture Science, is as under:

- A student who failed twice in SEE (i.e., one regular and a subsequent supplementary) may be permitted to write SEE for 100 marks by submitting an undertaking that he/she will forego CIE marks and can appear backlog(s) for 100 marks.
- The performance of a student in a semester shall be evaluated course-wise for a maximum of 100 marks in each theory and/or practical course in which a student has to obtain at least 50% marks to pass in a course.
- The amendment is applicable for the students admitted into the B.Sc. (Hons) Agriculture Science program from the academic year 2021-22.
